

Fabulous Phebe Cast Chat Show

Phebe's character was originally introduced through a series of kid books along with a clothing line. Since Phebe loves working with cool and creative kids, a few years ago, we filmed our first "Fashion to the Rescue" live action episode!

With the pandemic and being stuck at home, the kids were inspired to start a video chat show. Fabulous Phebe remains their leader, and is an animated character who pops in at times to join this group of live action kids. These kids have a million ideas including connecting with kids in other countries. They even did a Cat fashion show, as you will see in our latest full episode!

Fabulous Phebe has family appeal. Race, sex or age are not factors in Phebe's world. Part of what makes Fabulous Phebe interesting is how different the kids are from one another. And since it's a video show, they can get together from any location. We get to learn about their interesting and varied lives. For example, some are busy doing awesome projects of their own and others have expressed an interest in helping produce future Phebe content.

It's always been an unconventional process with anything Fabulous Phebe. For example, we started out with funding from a Kickstarter, was on a TV talk show, almost got on Shark Tank, and even did fashion shows from coast to coast! "Dream Big" was Phebe's first book title and it holds true today. The possibilities of where Fabulous Phebe can go are limitless!
